WRIGHT'S AIRSHIP WRECKED

Lieut. Selfridge Loses His Life, and Wright is Ser- iously Injured.

During a Flight at Fort Myer Yester- day Afternoon the Blade on One of the Propellers Breaks and the Machine Overturns 75 Feet in the Air, Landing on the Ken. Lieut. Selfridge Dies several Hours Later.

Special to the ARGUS.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—After having drawn the attention of the world to his aeroplane flights at Fort Myer and having established new world records for heavier-than-air flying machines, Orville Wright yesterday met with a frightful mishap while making a two-man flight. The aeroplane was accompanied by Lieut. Thomas E. Selfridge, of the Signal Corps of the army.

Lieut. Selfridge was fatally injured and died at 8:10 o'clock. Mr. Wright was seriously injured, but is expected to recover.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off and hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism caused it to overturn in the air and fall to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted in lifting Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge from under the tangle mass of machinery, rods, wires and shreds of muslin. Mr. Wright was conscious, and said:

"Oh, hurry and lift the motor." Lieutenant Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with great force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him from under the machine.

The latest reports from the military hospital at Fort Myer today indicate the recovery of Orville Wright, the noted aeronaut, whose injuries consist of two broken ribs, a fractured hip, and painful bruises and contusions, but no vital organs are affected.

The War Department has issued instructions that the spot where the aeroplane fell be marked, with the view of erecting a monument to the memory of Lieutenant Selfridge.

The Wright brothers will not be hindered in their life work by yesterday's accident, which possibly was due to the extra experiment of flying a one man machine with two occupants.

Newspaper Support.

Mt. Olive Tribune
A newspaper, if it has any brains, conscience and muscle back of it, must continually decide between doing its duty and injuring its pocket. In any position but that of an editor, the public is able to separate the individual from the collective citizen. But if an editor does not please them it's at his pockets they aim. Thus it is the newspapers learn who their friends are. The man who reads the newspaper and admires it all the year round yet gives his business support to some other concern, whose principles or the actions of its editor he detests, is not a friend to the former newspaper.

Admiration alone will not run a newspaper. There are too many men who expect an editor to slave in defence of their pet notions and hobbies, advocate their views against the strongest opposition and coolly withhold the business support by which alone a newspaper can live.

Talk about a paper having a public duty to perform and an editor having to work for his principles is cheap when others stand back and extend a lukewarm neutrality. The result is the newspaper may die while laboring for its principles and the cause of right and justice, which they admire but do not support.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE COMING WEEK.

(Special to THE ARGUS.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.

The political calendar for the week will be well filled. Judge Taft will receive a number of delegations in Cincinnati and will speak before the convention of the National Republican League, which will convene in that city on Tuesday.

Mr. Bryan will put in the week in the central West. His schedule provides for political addresses in a number of cities in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. Cleveland, Columbus, Detroit, Terre Haute and Dayton are among the cities on the list.

The Democratic State campaign in Ohio will be formally opened Saturday at Mansfield, with Judson Harmon and ex-Governor James E. Campbell as the chief speakers.

New Hampshire Democrats will meet in State convention to name candidates for governor and other State officers and the Republicans of New Jersey will convene to name presidential electors.

Nominees for State offices in Wisconsin and the candidates for the assembly and the Senate on the Republican ticket will meet in convention at Madison on Tuesday to formulate a platform. The convention is of interest from the fact that it is expected to be a test of the relative strength of Senator La Follette and the opposition.

President Roosevelt will wind up his vacation at Oyster Bay and return to Washington early in the week in time to speak before the International Tuberculosis Congress which will meet in the capital Monday for a long session. The congress in itself will be a most notable gathering and will be attended by distinguished medical men and scientists from all parts of America and Europe.

An extraordinary term of the Supreme Court of Queens county, New York, will convene Monday to consider the question of the indictment of the Haines brothers, charged with the sensational murder of William F. Annis.

Another important event on the criminal calendar will be the trial in San Francisco of I. Wang Chang, the Korean, who shot and killed Durham White Stevens, the American advisor to the Korean government.

Important conventions of the week will include the meetings of the Farmers' National Congress in Madison, Wis., the International Fishery Congress in Washington, the National Wholesale Druggists' Association in Atlantic City, the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows in Denver, the United Irish League in Boston, the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in Halifax, and the Upper Mississippi River Improvement Association in Clinton, Iowa.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney poisons will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scaling pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold in all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

HIS GREATEST SPEECH

Governor Aycock Strikes a Death Blow to North Carolina Repub- licans at Smithfield.

EDWARD L. CONN:

In Raleigh News & Observer
Smithfield, N. C., Sept. 17.—Democracy was triumphant in Johnston county today, and her matchless advocate, ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock, was heard by two thousand men from every section of the county. It was a great day for Johnston, and for Democracy. As if inspired, for nearly two hours Governor Aycock expounded the fundamental Democratic policies, at the same time mercilessly exposing and striking the hypocrisy of North Carolina Republicanism. He spoke for nearly an hour in burning words on the situation in this State, devoting the remainder of the speech to a powerful exposition of the Democratic National platform, contrasting it with the trust-flavored declarations of the National Republicans. Several distinguished lawyers from other cities who heard Governor Aycock declared his speech to be not only the utterance of a statesman, but one of the finest masterpieces of North Carolina political oratory.

Two years ago disaffection in Johnston county, caused by local troubles, reached its high water-mark. Since that time the Democrats have been regaining their former strength gradually, and it is believed that Governor Aycock's speech today has made the restoration complete. There is perhaps no county in the State that has been so deeply insulted by Federal agents as Johnston, and the people of the county long ago ceased to look for anything save treachery and betrayal among the Republicans. Governor Aycock in his speech spoke of the Republican spy system in this county, referring to the shameful arrest of decent men, of Federal agents being sent into the county to lure men into traps, catching fifteen or twenty at one time, and forcing them to pay in one day fines aggregating $3,200. He spoke of one man having been arrested "for that new-tangled disease Judge Purnell invented. Nobody," he declared, "knows what it is and in my opinion no such thing exists. It is called peen-ags."

Hon. Edward W. Pou, Congressman from this district, stated that the Democratic majority would not be less than 700. Hon. Clarence Richardson, the county chairman, said that he believed the Democratic majority would be at least 1000, and probably more.

BRYAN'S CONGRATULATIONS

The Presidential Candidate Says Chanler's Nomination is Very Satisfactory.

(By The Associated Press)

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Soon after receiving word at Amsterdam, N. Y., of the nomination by the Democratic State Convention of Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler for Governor, William J. Bryan, on his way to Rochester, sent him a telegram of congratulation, as follows:

"Lewis Chanler,
"Albany, N. Y.
"Please accept my hearty congratulation on the deserved honor done you by the Democratic convention. Your character and record will strengthen the Democratic cause."
(Signed) "W. J. BRYAN."
Of Mr. Chanler, Mr. Bryan had this to say:

"Mr. Chanler's nomination is very satisfactory. During his official career he has grown in popularity, and the compliment paid him by the State convention was deserved. He represents a type of citizenship of which I hope to see an increasing number of representatives. He is a man of means, whose sympathies are with the masses and he finds a pleasure in rendering public service. I believe in the future we are going to have more of these men who, having enough of this world's goods to relieve them of possibility of want, will unselfishly devote their time to the consideration of public questions and to the rendering of intelligent service to their fellowmen. I have no doubt that Mr. Chanler will poll more than the party vote, and give strength to the national ticket."

CROWNING DISGRACE.

The History of Jury Trials the World Over May Be Search- ed in Vain For Another Such Instance.

No spot on the record of France is so black as that nation's treatment of Captain Alfred Dreyfus. The great wrong done him was tardily repaired, and one would naturally think that the government and the people would be willing and glad to do all in their power to make him forget the atrocious crime committed against him.

But no; Gregori, a man who wears the epaulettes of a captain in the French army, and who tried to shoot down Dreyfus at the tomb of Zola, great defender of the wronged man, has been acquitted by a jury of his peers.

There is no question of Gregori having done the shooting, says the Times-Dispatch, discussing the matter editorially; he boasted of the act at the time; he boasted of it now. His speech to the jury was one that none but a Frenchman could make; that few but a Frenchman would care to make. He condemned every step taken in the reinstatement of Dreyfus, every consequence that has come from it, and found satisfaction and pride only in the "protest" made by him against Dreyfusism. Yet the jury declared him to be innocent.

The history of jury trials the world over may be searched in vain for another instance where the verdict of a jury so ignored the facts and disregarded the law.

It is announced that the acquittal means the end of the Dreyfus affair, but such optimism appears premature.

THE SHIPPERS WIN

Judge Pritchard Decides Coal Ship- pers Case Against The Railroads.

Special to the ARGUS.

Richmond, Sept. 17.—Judge Pritchard today announced the opinion of the Circuit Court of Appeals in the case of the United States ex rel Pictoria Coal Company vs. Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and others.

This was an action brought against the railroads to compel fair and equitable distribution of car service among mine owners on the Menagahela division.

Judge Pritchard holds it clearly the duty of the railroad company to furnish such transportation upon reasonable request therefor and give all shippers the same treatment with reference to facilities for transportation.

NOTHING BUT HARMONY.

Bryan is Given the Most Enthusi- astic Overtures in the Empire State.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

New York, Sept. 17.—Bryan spent a short while in this city this morning, after having made a whirl of 373 miles and delivering fourteen speeches.

He makes two speeches in Delaware today, but returns to New York tomorrow, when he will deliver his first addresses of the campaign in this city. He says he has found nothing but harmony and enthusiasm among Democrats since coming to New York.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not a real disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of this now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and yellow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

THEY.

Why don't you keep the streets a little cleaner?

You ask, with deep annoyance, not undue.

Why don't they keep the parks a little greener?

(Did you ever stop to think that they means you?)

How long will they permit this graft and stealing?

Why don't they see the courts are clean and true?

Why will they wink at crooked public dealing?

(Did you ever stop to think that they means you?)

"TO THE NEXT BURGLAR."

Mark Twain's Home Burglarized. He Posts a Notice.

Redding, Conn., Sept. 18.—Two burglars, who broke into the residence of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) in Redding late last night, were captured today on a New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad train between Bethel and Redding, after a desperate fight in which Deputy Sheriff Banks, of Redding was shot in the leg.

Miss Lyon, Mr. Clemens' secretary, was aroused about midnight by the sound of breaking glass in the lower part of the house. She went softly down the stairs to find a flood of light in the dining room, and that the sideboard with its solid silver, was missing from its customary place in the room. Cautiously slipping along in the shadows to a point where she could have a view of the garden, to which her attention had been called by an open window in the dining room, Miss Lyon saw two men forcing the doors and drawers of the sideboard, which they had carried out. Miss Lyon summoned Mr. Clemens and the butler, and then telephoned for Sheriff Banks and several neighbors.

Before any of them reached the scene, the burglars had fled with their booty, but the hurriedly formed posse started in pursuit. The two men were captured on a train at this point after a fierce fight in which the sheriff was wounded twice and one of the men shot himself seriously in the head.

The burglars had sorted all the solid silver from the plated ware, but the silver was recovered.

Mr. Clemens today posted this notice on the door of the house:

"Notice to the next Burglar—There is nothing but plated ware now and henceforth. You will find it in that brass thing in the dining room over in the corner by the basket of kittens. If you want the basket put the kittens in the brass thing. Do not make a noise—it disturbs the family. You will find rubbers in the front hall by that thing which has the umbrellas in it, chiffonier, I think they call it, or pergo, or something like that. Please close the door.

"Yours truly,

BRYAN IN NEW ENGLAND.

Democratic Candidate for President Was Rhode Island's Guest Today.

(Special to the ARGUS.)

Providence, R. I., Sept. 19.—William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President, today was Rhode Island's guest.

A royal welcome was given him here, the participants in the demonstration including leading Democrats from many parts of New England.

Mr. Bryan returns to New York tonight.

Tomorrow morning, after being entertained at breakfast by Herman Rider, the Presidential candidate will journey to Esopus to spend the day with ex-Judge Alton B. Parker.

DEEP CRACKS FROM ECZEMA

Could Lay Slate-Pencil in One— Hands in Dreadful State—Dis- ease Defied Remedies and Pre- scriptions—Suffered Seven Years.

FOUND A PERMANENT CURE IN CUTICURA

"I had eczema on my hands for about seven years and during that time I had used several so-called remedies, together with physicians' and druggists' prescriptions. The disease was so bad on my hands that I could lay a slate-pencil in one of the cracks and a rule placed across the hand would not touch the pencil. I used—

—Skin Lotion, —Remedy and did not use any internal remedy, and while some gave partial relief, none relieved as much as did the first box of Cuticura Ointment. I made a purchase of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my hands were perfectly cured after two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of soap were used. I now keep them on hand for sunburn, etc., and use Cuticura Soap for shaving. I could write a great deal more in reference to my cure but do not want to take more of your time. William H. Dean, Newark, Del., Mar. 28, 1907."

CHILD SUFFERED With Sores on Legs. Cured in Two Weeks by Cuticura.

"My little daughter suffered with sores on her legs all last summer. Her feet were sore, too, and she couldn't wear her shoes. I think she was poisoned by running through weeds but the doctor said it was eczema. I tried several remedies but failed to find a cure. Then I sent for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her in two weeks. I find Cuticura the best I ever tried for any kind of sore and I hope I shall never be without it. Mrs. Gertie Laughlin, Ivydale, W. Va., Apr. 25, 1907."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills 25c. per box of 50 to Purify the Blood.
